JUDGE JO. GUILD, by interchanging with Judge Rice, will hold the Circuit Court at Arlington, Houston county next week, commencing Tuesday morning.

THE North bound passenger train due here at 9:45 P. M., Wednesday was delayed until 5 A. M., Thursday. The delay was occasioned by two box cars being off the track on the trestle work at Tennessee river.

As a piece of finished workmanlike interior cornice and moulding of the Episcopal church surpasses any work of the kind we have ever noticed. Messrs. Jocke and Bellotte may well be proud of their job.

We are indebted to Messrs. Ladin & Bates, of Savannah, Ga., sheet music publishers, for a copy of "Governor Hampton's March," a piece of rare merit, which may be ordered at 40 cents a copy.

THE house and lot of Mr. B. F. Coulter will be sold September 1st, if not sold previously. If you want one of the best suburban residences of the city, now is your chance to get it.

THE meeting of the Cumberland Baptist Association will be held at Little Hope, in this county, Saturday, August 18th. On Friday, 17th at the same place, the Ministers and Deacons' meeting will be held.

THE steamer Matt Gracy, Capt. Callahan commanding, left last night at 12 o'clock, for the picnic and excursion to Flintrock, Tenn., in Cheatham county. She will probably have a full trip by the time she reaches the place of amusement.

A Saddle made thirty years ago may be seen by calling at E. R. Glascock's saddle shop. It is the workmanship of Mr. J. M. Glascock, and of the finest quality. The stitching is all hand-work and unsurpassed. The saddle was made for P. F. G. Irwin in her young days.

SOME unknown party made a raid on the hen house of Mr. John Parsh, in this city, last Wednesday night and tried to escape with some three or four chickens, but they "squallied" on him. Mr. Parsh, hearing the noise, came out and fired at the thief, but without effect.

THE sixth term of Hickory Wild Academy, will open on the first Monday in September. All "Tate" principal, has made for himself an enviable reputation as an educator. Able assistants in the various departments, a most pleasant locality and excellent boarding accommodations unite in making this a desirable school.

HON. JNO. F. HOUSE is still improving his handsome residence on Franklin street; the central tower is now capped by a high Mansard roof and by its elevation gives greater prominence to the whole building. Madison street, Clarksville, may be backed against any street in Tennessee for the residences.

C. C. CLINE, State Sunday School Evangelist of the State of Kentucky, will hold a Sunday School Institute at the Christian Church in this city, Friday, Sept. 7, 1877, continuing over the Sunday following. All Sunday School workers are cordially invited to participate in the exercises. The programme is such as will make the meeting in every way enjoyable and profitable, and will be announced in due time.

A FEW days ago Joe McNabb, about nine years of age, the son of Mr. John McNabb, met with a painful accident near the New Providence bridge. He was near the bridge where rock was being blasted, and a mule he was feeding when the noise of the blasting frightened the mule, which ran down the hill, dragging the boy after him. The little fellow was badly bruised, though, it is thought, not dangerously.

Base Ball.

On Tuesday evening the Chronicle Club sustained a defeat at the hands of its country friends, formerly playing under the title of the Smith Club, but now calling themselves the "Red Jackets." We can't congratulate either side on its play; the score stood—

Red Jackets..... 25
Chronicle..... 23

The Chronicle club had one strong excuse in the absence of their regular catcher, F. Clark who seems to be now an indispensable feature in the club. But most of the players seem to be of their mettle, even John Rice mauling one thrown ball, a most unusual event with him. W. Lemons was decidedly short of the average quality of his pitching, and in the third innings tried the experiment of slow pitching with disastrous result, the Reds scoring ten in that one inning. It was this that lost the match; in justice to him he pleads the instructions of the Captain in his favor. Beach, S. A., was the only player who avoided any serious error.

We refrain from criticising the play of our visitors; we only venture to predict that when the sugar game is played we shall witness better play on both sides.

Personal Items.

J. D. Trimble has gone to Brownsville to visit his family. He will return in the course of a week or two.

We invite attention to the advertisement of the Eclipse Livery Stable, which appears in this issue. The stable has been restocked with fresh horses and buggies. Mr. C. S. Daniel, the proprietor, is a most excellent judge of a horse, and parties patronizing the Eclipse may rest assured that they will be furnished with a first-class turn-out, at reasonable rates.

Jas. L. Glenn, Executor of A. B. Harrison, dec'd., will sell on Sept. 1, 1877, at the former residence of the deceased, a house and lot on Main street, one house and lot on Union street, one vacant lot on Madison street, adjoining the Baptist Church, all the household furniture, and 41 shares in the Clarksville & Port Royal Turnpike Company. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

New Exchange.

We gladly receive and place upon our exchange list the "Marville Republican." This paper we are informed, is the only paper in this State edited by a colored man. Its editor Mr. W. B. Scott, favored this office with a visit a few weeks ago and we found him an intelligent and unassuming man, thoroughly alive to the interests of Tennessee and to those of his own race in it. He has entirely cut loose from the mischievous delusion held by so many colored people, that the interests of that race are promoted by inciting a hostile feeling against the white race in the State. He believes that the interests of both are better provided for by working together than by trying to destroy one another. We consider his enterprise a very useful one, and wish it all the success he may desire.

Chancery Court.

The following additional cases were disposed of at the late term of the Chancery Court:

Shackelford vs. Bailey. Title to Bailey and order to pay city tax.

Reynolds vs. Dolan. Judgment for complainant and appeal.

Merritt vs. King's heirs. Judgment and order of sale.

White vs. Ranch. Order for account.

Barbee vs. Morrow. Judgment and order of sale.

Buck vs. Baker. Judgment, order of sale and appeal.

Bailey vs. McNeilly. Order for account.

Mills vs. Pindexter. Reference.

Lorton vs. Black. Order for account.

Callwell vs. Dixon. Sale—unframed, judgment and order for sale.

Fanning vs. Black. Report confirmed judgment, and order of sale.

Merritt vs. Norflet. Title to Gaines.

Morrison vs. Morrison. Title to Kincannon, Wood & Co.

Case ordered.

The Court ordered all pleadings and exhibits thereto, filed on and after the first Monday in August, to be enrolled, unless otherwise directed in writing by the attorney filing same. The fees for enrolling to be taxed as costs in the respective causes.

A. V. Goodpasture was sworn in as an attorney.

PETER ONAL, County Clerk, collected for the month ending July 31st, 1877:

State Tax on Privileges	$215.75
State Tax on Real Estate Transfers	10.17
County Tax on Real Estate	215.75
City Tax on Tipping	10.00
Total	$661.67

There were 19 marriage licenses issued for the month—a decided gain over corresponding months of past years, and indicating a lively market when the unsettled condition of the country, strikes, etc., including the hot weather of the dog days are duly considered. "To be or not to be, that's the rub."

R. B. Walthall, City Marshall, collected for the month ending July 31st, 1877:

City Tax on Real Estate	$4,021.01
City Tax on Merchants	491.22
City Tax on 1876 Sales	25.45
City Tax on 1877 Sales	25.45
Rail Road Tax on Real Estate	5,180.24
Rail Road Tax on Merchants	625.79
School Tax on Real Estate	767.21
School Tax on Merchants	80.91
Total	$11,233.28

This evinces most successful work on the part of Mr. Walthall, and shows with what alacrity our citizens pay their taxes. The discount of five per cent, offered by the city authorities has had much to do with this large collection.

Scene Painting.

We gladly copy the following notice from the Paducah News, learning that Mr. Riley, the artist spoken of, is likely to pay a visit here in Clarksville. We remember the condition of St. Clair Hall some three years ago, and can only adequately describe the dinginess, raggedness and insufficiency of the dirty slabs of muslin which passed for scenery there, by saying that they were almost as bad as the scenic apparatus in our own Franklin Hall.

Now will not the proprietors of Franklin Hall emulate the liberality of those of St. Clair Hall Paducah? It is a complete wet blanket on one's enjoyment in witnessing a good play to have the effect marred by ragged time worn slabs which only serve to suggest the idea of what there ought to be without making any approximation even to the realization.

So, gentlemen proprietors, if you desire in any degree to merit the patronage which has been so liberally conferred upon you, come forward, give Mr. Riley a job and render Franklin Hall what it ought to be: "The people of this city will be much pleased to let that Mr. Joseph Gardner is having the stage at St. Clair Hall thoroughly repaired and renovated. New curtains and new scenery in fact everything complete in first-class order. Hereafter when a manager wants a forest scene in his play he will not be horrified by seeing his wretched nymphet dancing in a garret, and the bloody murder or bold highwayman after being duly imprisoned according to law will not so unconsciously inconsistent as to appear the next moment reclining on a grassy bank in "some beautiful and romantic shade." The grooves are all right now and when the play calls for a street, a street will appear, and other things in due season.

The scene painting is being done by Mr. Riley, formerly of Memphis. Very few persons have been allowed to see it, but we are informed it is a model of beauty and art. Mr. Riley is a professional scenic artist and sign writer, and can execute any kind of work in this line to the complete satisfaction of the most fastidious. He is thorough in his business and such a man deserves encouragement. We hope he may be liberally patronized."

Major Fly's Lecture.

The lecture of Maj. B. F. Fly, delivered at the Court-house on Thursday evening, was of the most entertaining character and was listened to attentively by an appreciative audience. A perfect knowledge of Mexico, its topography, its customs and vast mineral resources enabled the Major to handle his subject with ease, favorably impressing his audience with the great advantages this silver land offers. He represents the Santa Gertrudis Silver Mining company, which was organized a few years since in Nashville, Tenn. The mine which this corporation owns are situated in the State of Chihuahua, Mexico. According to the report of Prof. Lupton, of Vanderbilt, Va., the ores of these mines are the richest in the world. Rev. A. Mizell is General Agent for the company.

The saloon keepers of the county have been called out against Peter Onal as Collector of Privilege Tax for what they assume to be an over-collection in the past six years for railroad purposes. The suit is one of vital importance, involving in toto a large amount, and was opened by T. L. Yancey, as attorney for the saloon men, on Thursday evening before R. D. Read, Esq. By consent only one day is to be tried, and that to be made a test case; this is to save the cost which would necessarily accrue in a large number of suits. His Honor has the case under consideration.

THE train through this section has been very partial, being abundant in some localities and in others quite scarce.

Idaho Springs.

Among the visitors of Idaho Springs, are A. G. Goodlett and family, Dr. N. Whitfield, Mrs. Fowles and family, of Louisville, Misses Bryan and Emma Whitfield, and Mr. Thos. Herndon and family.

It is strange that some one does not purchase these Springs and erect buildings for the accommodation of the public. The few cabins that are there are filled every summer, and those who drink of the water for any length of time are surprised at their health-restoring properties. Dyspepsia, diseased liver, and general debility, can fall to be benefited by the water of Idaho Springs.

Dunbar's Cave, which is second to none, save Mammoth Cave, is situated about five hundred yards from the Sulphur Springs. Here certainly is the finest locality in the State for the successful establishment of a watering place.

The Bar.

We have to congratulate our fellow-citizens on the accession of a new law firm to the Clarksville bar. The members of it are Messrs. J. R. and A. V. Goodpasture. These gentlemen are the sons of Col. J. D. Goodpasture, a prominent lawyer of Livingston, in Oregon county. Mr. J. R. Goodpasture is a member of the State Legislature as Floater from Overton, Fentress and Morgan counties, and gained much credit last winter as the able and eloquent advocate of State credit. Both gentlemen are graduates of the East Tennessee University and Mr. Albert Goodpasture also graduated in the law school of Vanderbilt University, Nashville.

Her father's house has never been so peaceful as it is now. Her mother, so often bereaved, almost weeps herself away for only children, and she is now marked by the same characteristic hospitality. New friends are coming to the most part, young or single preachers stationed there, and many of our preachers will remember their welcome to her comfortable home.

But she has passed away, and a devoted and disinterested husband is bereft of his only child, and she is now marked by the same characteristic hospitality. Religious.

Rev. A. Mizell will preach at the Methodist Church to-morrow morning 10 o'clock.

The Greenwood Class-meeting will be held at the residence of E. M. Clark next Tuesday night.

Rev. J. W. Pratt, D. D., will preach at the Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The protracted meeting at Asbury Church closed last Monday with fifteen accessions to the church.

Rev. J. W. Lupton.

We are indebted to this gentleman for Edinboro' papers, giving part of the proceedings of the Presbyterial council, whose sittings he has been attending in Edinboro'. We purpose next week publishing two interesting essays read there, one by the Rev. Stewart Robinson of Louisville Ky., the other by the Rev. A. A. Hodge of Richmond, Va.

Temperance Lecture.

Col. John J. Hickman, one of the most distinguished Temperance orators in the United States, will deliver a temperance lecture at Spring Creek church near St. Bethlehem, on next Friday, the 10th inst. A splendid barbecue will be prepared and the public are invited to attend.

FROM DICKSON COUNTY.

EDITORS CHRONICLE: "More rain more rest," the lady man's consolation, has been spoken by many of late, as it has been mining almost continually. It has damaged those farmers who have tobacco planted in old ground in low, wet places; the stalks rot and the tobacco falls down. As a general thing the corn and tobacco crops are very good, only there was not enough corn planted, therefore some will have to buy and it will cost them from $2.50 to $3.00 per bushel. Wheat is selling from $1.10 to $1.25 per bushel, and the probabilities are that it will sell for more after it is all threshed, as it is not yielding as much as was expected. Oats are better through this neighborhood than they have been for years. The hay crop will be a little short of what it usually is.

Cumberland Furnace is making fourteen tons of pig iron a day, but none is being sold. Business with the merchants throughout the country is very dull as far as selling dry goods is concerned, but "Whiskey, whisky, bane of life, Friend of tumblers, pain and strife," is at par, even with a goodly portion of Bartley's creek contained.

A curious phenomenon was witnessed here on Wednesday night, the 24th, between 9 and 10 o'clock. A rainbow was seen in the North-west almost as plain as if it had been in the day time. More than a hundred persons observed it as they left St. James' church. Can it be that the moon's rays can form a rainbow as the sun's? Some astronomer will please explain the phenomenon, as it is something that very few have ever observed.

Cumberland Furnace has been honored with the presence of the Rev. William Graham, of Nashville, for the last three weeks, and the people in this vicinity have had an opportunity to hear some splendid sermons propounded by him at St. James' church. A great many infants and little children have been baptized, and now belong to Christ. May they grow up in purity and live exemplary lives. Communion was held on Sunday, the 22nd inst., in which Christians of all denominations participated, though it was held under the auspices of an Episcopalian minister. Our Sabbath School here is in a thriving condition. Little boys, who but a few months ago were on the creek-sides throwing stones and fishing on their way to and from Sabbath school. We have a splendid choir under the leadership of Mr. A. Story, with the beautiful and accomplished Miss Nona L. of St. Augustine, Florida, as organist.

ALPHA, Cumberland Furnace, July 31, 1877.

IN MEMORIAM.

Virginia Bell Hamblough, nee Burgess, was born in Todd county, Ky., Nov. 19, 1830; married to P. C. Hamblough October 10, 1851; resided in New Providence in early life and joined the M. E. Church South, in which communion she lived until the day of her death, which occurred July 27, 1877.

Again the Angel of Death has been summoned away from our midst those who at God's altar have worshipped with us in other days. Sister Hamblough, through a child of affliction, was in her usual health twenty-four hours before the Death Angel took her and partly in general appearance, yet she was an intense sufferer for years. Against her physical infirmities she bravely and persistently endeavored to fill her place in the Church, Sunday school and domestic circle. For more than a year, however, she had been compelled to abandon her place in the Church, and to live in her own family. To her family and domestic duties she was ever faithful. To her husband she was a help indeed. If a well regulated house, close economy and indefatigable labor upon the part of a companion are auxiliaries to a man's success in this life, then Mr. Hamblough owes much to the memory of his wife. In general wife. Before her afflictions shut her in from society, her church was a sweet resort for her, and no member of the church was more punctual in her attendance than she. In all the enterprises for the advancement of church interests she was in the front ranks and worked zealously for their consummation. The church will miss her. To the preachers she was proverbially hospitable. Her father's house has never been so peaceful as it is now. Her mother, so often bereaved, almost weeps herself away for only children, and she is now marked by the same characteristic hospitality. New friends are coming to the most part, young or single preachers stationed there, and many of our preachers will remember their welcome to her comfortable home.

But she has passed away, and a devoted and disinterested husband is bereft of his only child, and she is now marked by the same characteristic hospitality. New friends are coming to the most part, young or single preachers stationed there, and many of our preachers will remember their welcome to her comfortable home.

Correction.

In noticing the substitution of Mr. M. V. Ingram for J. P. Flood on the Executive Committee of the Press Association, we inadvertently spoke of Dr. Dickinson as if he were still President of the Association, forgetting that Mr. Helms, of the Morristown Gazette, succeeded him in that office at the last meeting. Our thanks are due to the editor of the Lebanon Herald for correcting our error.

Two thousand loaded cars and 135 engines were destroyed by the strikers in Pittsburg.
